Adoption Services	Who is Providing the Service
Identifying a child for adoption and arranging an adoption	CARA and local government authority (Child Welfare Committee) identify children for adoption and CARA arranges the adoption. Barker and Susanta Chakraborty or Shraddha Kapoor arrange the adoption.
Securing the necessary consent to termination of parental rights and to adoption	CARA and local government authority (Child Welfare Committee) secure the necessary consent to termination of parental rights and to adoption
Performing a background study on a child or a home study on prospective adoptive parent(s), and reporting on such a study	The child study is provided and reported on by CARA in conjunction with a local government-run orphanage. Susanta Chakraborty & Shraddha Kapoor may also support the provision of this service through obtaining additional information on child from CARA or its designated authority per Barker's request and translate the information as needed. The home study will be conducted and reported on by a Barker staff member if PAPs reside in a Barker licensed state. If PAPs do not reside in a Barker licensed state, the home study will be completed by a home study agency licensed in your state.
Making non-judicial determinations of the best interests of a child and the appropriateness of an adoptive placement for the child	CARA makes official referrals to families through Barker. Barker, Shraddha Kapoor or Susanta Chakraborty may make a preliminary match for a home study approved family under CARA's guidelines through the Waiting Child Program and submits it to CARA for review and approval.
Monitoring a case after a child has been placed with prospective adoptive parents until final adoption	Majority of families travel for placement after the adoption is finalized through court or district magistrate and all documents are ready. Occasionally, a family takes custody of their child after CARA issues NOC as allowed per CARA and USDOS guidelines. In these cases, CARA, local government authority, government-run orphanage, Barker, Susanta Chakraborty or Shraddha Kapoor may all play a role in the monitoring of the placement.

When necessary because of a disruption before final adoption, assuming custody of a child and providing or facilitating the provision of childcare or any other social service pending an alternative placement	In a disruption situation, the government-run orphanage will assume custody of the child with the approval from CARA and local government authority. Barker and Susanta Chakraborty or Shraddha Kapoor will be available to family for support and coordination, as needed.
