Adoption Services	Who is Providing the Service
Identifying a child for adoption and arranging an adoption	KWS under the authority of the Korean government identify children for adoption and KWS works with Barker to arrange the adoption.
Securing the necessary consent to termination of parental rights and to adoption	KWS works under the authority of the Korean government to secure the necessary consent to termination of parental rights and to adoption
Performing a background study on a child or a home study on prospective adoptive parent(s), and reporting on such a study	The child study is provided and reported on by KWS. The home study will be conducted and reported on by a Barker home study social worker, if PAPs reside in a Barker licensed state. If PAPs do not reside in a Barker licensed state, the home study will be completed by a home study agency licensed in your state. SOCIAL WORKER/HOMESTUDY AGENCY
Making non-judicial determinations of the best interests of a child and the appropriateness of an adoptive placement for the child	KWS makes official referrals to families through Barker.
Monitoring a case after a child has been placed with prospective adoptive parents until final adoption	Families travel to Korea and are only able to take placement of the child/children after the adoption is finalized through court and all documents are ready. KWS continues to provide monitoring to all cases until the final adoption and placement has occurred.
When necessary because of a disruption before final adoption, assuming custody of a child and providing or facilitating the provision of childcare or any other social service pending an alternative placement	Children are not placed in the care of adoptive parents until the adoption is finalized, if a disruption of the match were to occur prior to final adoption, KWS would maintain custody of the child. KWS and Barker will be available to family for support and coordination, as needed.
